RECEPTION OF THE PRESIDENT AT WHITE SULPHUR SPRINGS, VA., ON THE TWENTY-PHIST LINEARY.

Speech of EZ-President Tyler on Behalf of the United States to visit the White Sulphur of the United States to visit the White Sulphur of the Visiters assembled in public meeting to to take steps to tender to him, as a mark of their high respect, a public reception. On motion of South Carolina, was called to the chair, and Colonel Abraham Van Buren, of New York, was appointed secretary. The object of the meeting having been stated by the chair, on motion a committee was appointed, to make arrangements to carry into effect the views and wishes of the meeting. The committee consisted of the following gentlemen, viz:

Ex-President Tyler, Hon. W. Boulware and James Lyons, esq., of Va.; Judge Mason, Hon. John Nelson, Hon. W. D. Merrick, of Md.; Hon. A. Roncher, Hon. W. N. Fedwards, and General Ricks, Miss.; Gov. J. Subsequently upon a meeting of the committee, Ex-Fresident Tyler was unanimously chosen its charman, and as such was requested to tuder to the President the hospitalities of the State, and to receive himon behalf of the visiters, at the Springe. At the same time a sub-committee, consisting of Mr. Porcher, Judge Mason, Colonel Van Buren and Mr. Boulware, were appointed to meet the President and his family and friends on the way, and escort them to the place of reception. Governor Manning was designated to introduce the President and his family and friends on the way, and escort them to the place of reception. a French naturalized American, and two Americans, who raised the stars and stripes over their houses when the forces landed, claiming that as the Russians had abandoned the place, and left it to them, they were the possessors of the soil. These men are engaged in trading, and are represented as doing a good business. The dogs were in a starving condition, and followed the invaders about town for bits of biscuit. One of invaders about town for bits of biscuit. One of them was brought away by Commander Rosencoat, of the Obligado.

The parties were divided into companies, who proceeded to burn, blow up and destroy the arsenals, store houses and all government buildings. Not a vestige of any public work was left standing, except the hospital, which with the church and dwellings of the poorer classes of the inabitants was left untouched. The inhabitants commenced deserting the place shortly after the garrison embarked. Accompanied by the authorities, they started on or about the 20th of Apritowards Tchinsk; but the Governor's wife being enciente, the flight continued only to the small fishing village of Avache, some twenty miles inland.

The following day after the arrival of the Al-The following day after the arrival of the Allies the destruction of the fortifications commenced. These were the facines constructed of immense logs—the walls being 16 feet in thickness. Such was their strength they resisted all efforts for some time, and were finally reased to the ground by the agency of powder. It appears that the policy of the Russian government had changed rather suddenly in this mattler. After the battle of last year, orders came for strengthening the forts, and though at that time such a resistance was made as to repel the assailants, there being but one tier of guns, it was ordered to increase it to a double tier. The destroyers found embrasures for 51 guns of heavy calibre. Why this sudden change of policy took place may, perhaps, be explained by that on which the Russians have always acted—of retiring into the interior from their invaders, and avoiding decisive engagements. This time, however, they have made nothing by the movement; and with the increased strength of the place, it would seem that they might have made a more obstinate resistance than before. The fleets did not leave the place until the demolition was complete.

The Atlanta Intelligencer gives the following melancholy account of a Know-nothing mass barouches, one drawn by four horses, in which the President and part of the committee were seated, was then formed. The rest of the President sparty, consisting of Mrs. Pierce, Mr. Webster, (private secretary,) Sentor Mason, Mr. Hoover, the United States Marshal of the District of Columbia, and Mr. John S. Barber, occupied the other carriage with the rest of the committee. The carriages then proceeded towards the springs, giving the President ample time to view the beautiful scenery of this lovely spot. The President was most cordially and enture of the surrounding counties, who had assembled in front of the drawing-room to do him honor. The venerable Ex-President Tyler received him in the most graceful and dignified from almost every State of the Union have appointed us a committee to tender you their cordial congratulations upon your safe arrival at this celebrated watering place. In the fact that they have constituted me the medium for the interpretation of their feelings and sentiments, you will readily conclude that their greetings are presented withmeeting, recently held at Cartersville, Georgia:

a chance to do evil, such lawless and uncurbed outrages on the peace and lives of men, as we witnessed Wednesday. Men with guns, men with drawn swords, with side arms, with bludgeons, seemed to be possessed by the demon of slaughter, and to be raving mad in their pursuit after blood.

"Dr. Miller asked from the stand, why was all this violence in these latter days! and he seemed to wish to turn it to account for his party. The blame is not with any old political organization that exists now, or ever did exist in this country before. But it springs directly from this unholy war on men, simply because they dare to vote their own way, and from this crusade against a religion that thousands of American citizens profess. It all comes from the palpable, stunning fact, that Know-nothingism is civil war."

Fusion and its Results .- One Sandford Tattoon, a colored barber in Colchester, Connecticut, was married on Sunday evening, the 12th instant, to Miss Mary Morris, a "blue-eyed daughter of Erin." The ceremony was performed by Elder Bolles. The bridegroom is represented as being a full blooded African—and this amalgamation is a practical illustration of the theory of a practical illustration of the theory of Connectient "Fusion" party and a sample of the ultimate results of Fusion. Bad as this proceeding is, however, some of the more disorderly inhabitants of Colchester have, in undertaking to rebuke it, done a thing much worse. The next night Mr.

GEORGETOWN COLLEGE, D. C.

THE next session of this Institution will commence on Monday, the 3d of September, The Preparatory Department and Collegiate course are both conducted by able and experienced Professors, who devote themselves to the moral and intellectual advancement of those confided to their care. A large and spacious building has just been completed to be used exclusively for the accommodation of the younger students. Their dormitory, play-grounds, study-hall, class-rooms, &c., will be entirely distinct from those of the other students, and officers especially assigned will attend them in their pastimes and preside over their studies. A complete separation will thus be effected between the younger and older students, the advantages of which must be apparent to all those who have the least experience in the education of youth.

The Observatory of the College, its extensive Philosophical apparatus, rich and varied Libraries, and Cabinet of Minerals, Geological Specimens and Shells, afford to the students of this Institution advantages rarely to be met with.

PROSPECTUS.—SOUTHERN CONSERvative Magazine.—When new aspirants for popular favor are announced, the public have a right to demand the grounds upon which such show of title to their patronage is made. In acknowledgment of this, we trace the customs of parties in the avowal of principles; of religious sects, in the promulgation of creeds; and of persons in all pursuits of life, dependent upon the public for success, in their preparatory expositions of plans and purposes. The customs thus originating, though sometimes abused, are useful and proper, and should not be discarded. And when, in obedience to custom, new plans are proposed, those approving ought not to withhold their encouragement, as too many do, until they see that success is sure, for their aid may be needed to secure it. Such a foolish policy as this jeopardizes the plan they approve, and hastens its failure; it has defeated many important enterprizes, and has deprived the country of good and useful works. If a new proposition of any kind is approved by the public, the support of those approving is of right expected, their approval being solicited only in the view that their more substantial aid will not be withheld.

BRIEF OUTLINE OF THE PLAN OF THE PROPOSED PERIODICAL.

THE SOUTHERN CONSERVATIVE MAGAZINE will occupy grounds but little cultivated by American magazine literature. In this belief, and with such an higher order than has been aimed at in our magazine literature. In this belief, and with such an

The new magazine will be national and not The new magazine will be national and not sectional; claiming no merit by virtue of its establishment in the South, but siming at a higher assfulness and a more general acceptability.

It will be Protestant, but not sectarian; opposing religious bigotry or intollerance on the one side, and infidelity on the other—laboring in its teach-religious bigotry or intollerance on the one side, and infidelity on the other—laboring in its teachings to advance a closer union between the several branches of the great family of the church.

It will be political, but liberal; owing no slavish allegiance to parties or politicians, it will advocate measures, not men, and will labor only for the success of principles.

It will be progressive, yet sternly opposed to the reckless spirit of innovation so rile in the country—aiming to elevate and advance, not depress; to reform and improve, not to destroy; sacredly adhering to the true intent of our great republican theory, and laboring to advance it to its fullest development.

It will be truly American in tone and sentiment, but will repudiate nothing foreign, merely because so; believing that the good, the useful, and true belong not, par excellence, to any favored people, but are the common right of all.

It will be the organ of pure conservatism.

It will encourage a high-toned literature, and defend pure morals in all the social relations of life.

And it will number in its corps of regular con

TO LOVERS OF THE FRENCH LANGUAGE.

THE advertiser, a Frenchman and graduate of the Polytechnic School of Paris, respectfully offices his services as a teacher of his native tongue to Schools, Classes, and Private Popils of this city and vicinity. The system he follows to facilitate the acquisition of the French Language, unites in due proportion theory and practice; by which are avoided the difficulties the student often meets with in pursuing one of the many theoretical grammars, not sufficiently showing the idiomatical part of the language, or a practical one, in which the necessary grammatical rules, if not entirely, at least far too much, are neglected. In following these theoretical grammars, the student must have experienced that after having devoted a long time to the mere memorizing of sentences, he find himself in possession of a number of set phrases, valuable it is true, but from which, destitute of landmarks, the slightest deviation must lead him into unknown regions.

The advertiser feels confident in the assertion that the pupil, in adopting his method, may, with a little effort, after a course of forty-eight lessons, understand and speak the French, and find the assistance of a teacher not necessary in the further prosecution of the studies of that language.

Instruction in Pencil Drawing, Pastel Painting, and Penmanship, can also be had from the advertiser.

OFFICE No. 292, PENNSTLVANIA AVENUE,
Corner of 10th street, over Savings Bank.

This CEMETERY is laid out on the plan of the celebrated Greenwood of New York, and situated on the high ground, distant one and a quarter miles north of the Capitol, North Capitol street, leading directly to the Gateway. This company have received a charter from Congress, appropriating this ground for ever to burial purposes, making a fee title to the purchaser, and prohibiting all encroachments from legislation or otherwise, which is of vast importance to those who wish their dead to repose where they have placed them, for it has become a custom in all cities when the burial ground becomes valuable for other purposes, to sell it, and throw the dead promiscnously into one large pit, and legal measures cannot prevent it, as no titles are given to the ground. the ground.

NEW LIVERY STABLE. To the Patrons of Berkeley Springs.

The undersigned begs leave to inform his friends and the public generally, that he has erected a new and extensive Livery Stable, for the accommodation of those who may wish to keep their horses at the Springs during the approaching season. The building contains about 40 stalls of extra width, and extensive Carriage Sheds. Its location is clean, dry, and siry, and convenient to Colonel Strother's Hotel, with which it is connected by arrangement. Experienced and reliable persons will be in attendance, and no expense will be spared to give every satisfaction to the visiting public. The proprietor will also keep for hire, several pleasure carriages and saddle horses. Having provided these accommodations, at considerable expense, the Proprietor hopes that he will be liberally patronized. Terms to suit the times.
